“ I was a friend of David from pre high school. We competed together as swimmers and ultimately became friends. We had many great times . Best man at his wedding. Years after he spent many holidays with our family. Kinda became an uncle to my kids. They would always anticipate his Christmas cards that were so unique that we saved them every year. Have over 40. On display every holiday.
Our special attachment was music. He would always identify concerts, call me and we would go. And at times my wife and kids went as well.
We sat many nights on my back porch and listened to everything in our music realm and then some. Our favorite was Bruce Cockburn. Take a listen to “Pacing the cage” It is a beautiful song and we both decided ,at some time in our life, we are all doing it.

Take care my friend.
