“ I miss you so much everyday. Today I went into my voicemail and heard a message from you on Oct 23 2018 Four days before you past away. . That’s all I have from you left. A 6 second message. I will treasure the sound of your voice forever. I talked to you a few hours before you had your heart attack. I am so grateful we were laughing and talking about old times. It will be a year in a few weeks that you are gone. It still hurts the same as it did the first day. I love and miss you. I am so glad we had many happy times together that I can reflect back on. Oh how I wish you were still here. Till we meet again I will never forget you.
