“ I was afraid of Uncle Jimmy when I was young. Especially when Aunt Grace would say that he was sleeping and would be angry if I woke him up. It wasn't until I got older that I got to know him better. Rest in peace Uncle Jimmy or is it Just Me.

“ I worked on the railroad with Jim from 1966 until he retired. We became friends, and kept in touch, Christmas cards and phone calls. After Grace died, it was "Just Me".
Lots of good memories and stories.

I was once asked by a brakeman at Conway if I knew Jim, and would I convey the man's heartfelt gratitude? "Before our unit went to Vietnam, the Sergeant Major talked to us about what we could expect in combat. What he told me saved my life. Thank him for me." I was honored to do so, and the Sergeant Major was very touched by the message.

There was no Christmas card this year, and no phone call, so this notice was not unexpected. I will miss him.

To all the Family, our sincere condolences and heartfelt sympathy.

"Good night, Sergeant Major Rodgers!"
